THE PACIFIC Commercial Advertiser.

"Have Patience."

A youth and maid one winter night,
Were sitting in the corner,
His name, we're told, was Joshua White,
And hers was Patience Warner.
Not much the pretty maiden said,
Festive the young man sitting;
Her cheeks were flushed a deep red,
Her eyes bent on her knitting.
Nor could he guess what thoughts of him
Were to her bosom flooding,
As her fair fingers, swift and slim,
Flowed round and round the stocking.
While as for Joshua, bashful youth,
His words grew few and fewer;
Though all the time, to tell the truth,
His chair creaked nearer to her.
Meanwhile her ball of yarn gave out,
She knit so fast and steady;
And he must give his aid, no doubt,
To get another ready.
He held the skein; of course the thread
Got tangled, snarled and twisted;
"Have patience!" cried the artless maid,
To him who her assisted.
Good chance was this for tongue-tied youth
To shorten all palaver;
"Have patience!" cried he, "dearest girl!
And may I really have her?"
The deed was done; no more that night
Clicked needles in the corner;
And she is Mrs. Joshua White,
That once was Patience Warner.

VARIETY.

Little disputes before marriage are great ones
after it; as northerly winds, which are warm in summer, blow keen and cold in winter.
An exchange asks very innocently if it is any harm for young ladies to sit in the lap of ages?
Another replies that it all depends on the kind of ages selected. Those from eighteen to twenty-five it puts down as extra hazardous.
A patriotic exempt in St. Albans, Vermont, offers a 100 acre farm in Iowa, which once sold for $600, and $200 in cash, for a substitute.
A widow in Providence, R. I., has applied to have her only son sent to the front as punishment for not supporting her.
Why are lawyers like scissors? Because they never cut each other, but only what is placed between them.
A boy who got into a fight and was whipped, threatened the victor, that he would send for his big brother, who would "cowhide him with a horse-whip."
An old geography says that in 1750, Albany had 1,500 houses and 5,000 inhabitants, all standing with their gable ends to the wind.
A barber while shaving a man whose cheeks were so sunken that it was necessary for him to put his finger inside and press them out so that the razor would reach what was usually the hollow, suddenly withdrew his hand, exclaiming, "A plague on your lunatic jaw! I have cut my finger through them."
A woman in Albany sued a neighbor to recover damages for breaking an iron kettle which the latter had borrowed. On trial, the attorney for the defend-ent proved the following points:
1. His client never borrowed the kettle.
2. It was broken when she borrowed it.
3. It was whole when she returned it.
During the great Californian flood of 1862, the bridge at Yuba river at Parks Bar, though thirty feet above the usual level of the water, was carried away. An Irishman on the bank of the river a mile below, saw the fragments floating past, and a few minutes afterwards the Nevada stage, which had crossed on the bridge a few minutes before it was swept away, and could not have crossed by any other means or at any other place. He asked anxiously, "And sure, did ye cross the bridge before it was carried off?"
A Baptist preacher known to be very fond of toddy was riding, one very cold day, past the house of a friend who had similar tastes, and who now cried out, "Hallo, brother, don't be in such haste.
Won't you stop and chat awhile?"
"No, thank you, I have no time. John Smith is dying, and I must get to his house as soon as I can."
"But wouldn't you like a hot whiskey toddy?"
"Well, I don't care if I do," said the preacher, as he stopped his horse and went off sitting at an open window or door, at the age of three or four years the danger which attends cooling off too quickly after exercise, or work, or play, or of remaining exposed to a wind, or of sitting at an open window or door, or of pulling off any garment, even the hat or bonnet, while in a heat. It should be remembered by all that a cold never comes without a cause, and that in four times out of five, it is the result of leaving off exercise too suddenly, or of remaining still in the wind, or in a cooler atmosphere than that in which the exercise has been taken.
